In case of appn letter No 6028 J. 18. 4/05 he has asked for this grant of Rs 2000 per annum on the principle of C.R.C. Vol II Pt I 1674 - He says "Money to meet these temporary demands (Special arrangements" the article in the Civil Account Code says that this grant is intended "to meet demands of the occasional Special Calls and for bringing up arrears" the article further requires a report in each case mentioning the work on which employed to be made to the Comptr Genl and in Mysore an annual return is prescribed.

10 from the above it is clear that the grant has to be used only for Spl work or bringing up arrears and not to be utilised to be added to the existing establishment in any way for doing routine work.

11 In the Statement received with the Comptr's letter No 1809 12/14 Jy/11 it will seem that a sum of Rs 180 has been drawn for a Special Clerk at Rs 15 a month all the year round & temporary clerks

Submitted to His Highness.

22 In Government Order No.Fl.2845/Gl.Fin.74-05-3 dated 2nd November 1905, the Government directed that an annual grant of Rs.2,000 be placed at the disposal of the Comptroller to meet charges on temporary establishments, chiefly in connection with the Savings Bank work and the work of the outside audit. One of the conditions prescribed is that, at the end of the year, the Comptroller should submit to Government a statement of the sanctions, the object of the temporary establishments and the cost of each sanction.

23 2. With his letter No.18 dated 12th July 1911, the Comptroller reported that Rs.1,981-2-2 was utilized during the year 1910-11. It will be seen from the statement appended to the Comptroller's letter and the observations contained at pages 3 and 4 of the office notes, that the bulk of the expenditure was on items not covered by Government sanction. While this matter was engaging the attention of the Government, the Comptroller requested that, in modification of the Government Order cited above, he may be empowered to sanction appointments up to Rs.50 per mensem without the previous approval of Government. The Paper under disposal. II.

The Comptroller states that suitable men could not always be secured on Rs.20 per mensem.

24 3. As the grant was utilized for entirely different purposes, such as adding to the existing establishment for doing routine work, the Comptroller was requested to report whether the Government Order of 1905 may not now be withdrawn. The Comptroller reported, in reply, that the need for additional hands arises every year during certain seasons and circumstances and that it was not possible to do away with the grant.

"Paper under disposal. II"

25 4. Both the Councillors are of opinion that they see no reason to treat the Comptroller's Office differently from any other and that the grant may be altogether withdrawn. When additional establishment (temporary or permanent) is wanted, sanction of Government may be obtained as in other Departments.

26 5. When Mr. Basu asked for this special grant, it was intended to meet demands both for occasional special calls and for bringing up arrears. He anticipated the necessity for temporary help in connection with the Savings Bank work and the work of the outside audit. A special outside audit section has since been sanctioned. During 1910-11 the expenditure in connection with the Savings Bank amounted to Rs.27-14-0 and the outlay in other braches amounted to to Rs.1,953-2-2. I agree with the Councillors that the grant is no longer required. It may be withdrawn accordingly.

"Pages 4 - 5 of notes" 6. The General and Revenue Secretary has raised the question for a similar treatment. He wants to be placed at his disposal a sum of Rs.2,000 to meet the cost of temporary hands during times of pressure of work. It is reported that, during Dasara and Birthday festivities, it is found difficult to find men for special work without seriously dislocating the ordinary work of the General and Revenue Secretariat. This request seems reasonable and may be sanctioned. An alternative course would be to require other Secretariats to take up this work in turns, but it is doubtful that the results would be satisfactory.

16 Question of discontinuing the annual grant of Rs.2,000 hitherto allowed to the Comptroller for temporary demands for establishments, and the placing of a like sum at the disposal of the General and Revenue Secretary to meet the cost of temporary hands during times of pressure of work.

Order.

D. O. No. 7 592 12

The Palace, Mysore,

4th July 1912.

My dear Sir,

I am directed to return the accompanying File and to say that His Highness regrets that he is unable to accept the recommendation of the Council. It is not clear that the grant of Rs.2000/- for temporary establishments has been misused by the Comptroller in the past and His Highness is reluctant, in the face of the Comptroller's objections, to alter an arrangement which has been in force for several years. The Government should, of course, insist on the restrictions laid down being strictly observed. His Highness is unable to see the necessity for making a similar grant to the General and Revenue Secretary as this Officer is the official mouth-piece of Government and can obtain sanction for temporary establishments whenever needed without any correspondence or delay.

Yours sincerely,

T. Ananda Row Esq., C. I. E.

30 Respectfully submitted for orders in regard to the proposal of the Comptroller to either altogether withdraw the limit of Rs 20/- contemplated in G.O. No. 2805-92/Miscl. for appointments out of the Annual grant or to raise it to Rs 50/- a month.

SIR,

I have the honour to invite reference to Order No.Fl.2845/Gl.Fin. 74-05-3 dated 2nd November 1905 regarding the annual grant for temporary establishment of Rs.2,000/- placed at the disposal of the Comptroller.

2. One of the conditions of incurring the expenditure from this grant is that no appointment should be sanctioned by the Comptroller on a pay of more than Rs.20 a month without the previous approval of Government. In my letter No.1172/R 75 dated 22nd August 1911, I suggested that this limit of Rs.20 should be raised to Rs.30, as suitable men could not always be had on Rs.20 a month. No reply to this reference has as yet been received. I now request that, for the reasons stated below, this limit of Rs.20 may be altogether withdrawn or raised to Rs.50 a month:

3. The temporary men employed in the office to cope with additional work thrown on it from time to time and paid from this lumpsum grant of Rs.2,000/- constitute the field from which recruitments to apprenticeships and permanents appointments of this office are ordinarily made when such appointments fall vacant. As men with any high educational qualifications cannot be expected to join the office office in a temporary appointment on Rs.20 a month, the recruitment has, during all these years, been from men of low and unsatisfactory educational qualifications. I saw this defect in the system of recruitment sometime ago and tried to bring in some good men in the higher grades from outside; but, as untried outsiders could not be brought to the office in the higher grades, I had to select some good men from other offices. But here also the difficulty is felt inasmuch as the other offices are not always willing to part with their best men, and even when they are willing the conditions and circumstances under which men can be taken into this office do not always suit the convenience of the office from which the men are taken. Thus, if there is a temporary or a sub protem vacancy in this office even for a long period, another office may not be willing to send a good man on an officiating or a temporary footing. All this difficulty will be removed if I have the facility of taking in young and fresh graduates--preferably first class--in temporary vacancies on a pay which will attract them, say Rs.30 to Rs.50 a month. They may be confirmed in suitable vacancies after they are fully trained. Of course, amongst the temporary men we will continue to have a certain number of Matriculates on Rs.15 or Rs.20 a month; but what is wanted is that amongst the temporary hands there should be some on higher rates of pay who, after training, may be appointed at once to the higher grades to supply the better class of material, a certain ~~number~~ proportion of which is indispensable in an office like this.

4. Without meaning to ~~pass~~ cast any reflections in any quarters, I may be permitted to say that the recruitment in this office in the past seems to have been exceedingly unsatisfactory and there are a number of men in each grade who cannot but be described as a great impediment in the ~~work~~ way of improving the working of this office. Unless steps are taken to introduce into the office a number of properly trained young men of superior educational qualifications and attainments, any attempt to materially improve the working of the office will not be fully successful and it is with the view of securing this object that the request of removing the limit of Rs.20 referred to in para 2 of this letter is made.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

J S Chakravarti
